

The Food Consortium Industrial Doctoral Landscape Award (IDLA) APPLICATION FORM 2026

Please complete this form if you are applying for one of the five PhD projects offered by The Food Consortium Industrial Doctoral Landscape Award (IDLA). Please indicate the specific project that you are applying for below and check where this project is hosted (i.e., host university) when making your application.

The Food Consortium IDLA is committed to equality, diversity, and inclusion, welcoming applications from all backgrounds and fostering an environment where every researcher can thrive.

This application form will be shared in full with the supervisory team of the project to which you are applying, so please do not include any information that you do not want shared. Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion monitoring information will be collected on a separate online form (instructions below).

You will need the following documents to support your application (please see further submission instructions at the bottom of this application form):

- Official transcripts of your higher education qualifications, inclusive of grades.
- Evidence of your proficiency in English, if English is not your first language. (You can provide this later if you have not yet completed an IELTS test). We may contact you for further information if your application is shortlisted.
- If you have completed a degree or higher degree in a course that was taught in English this may be sufficient evidence of your language proficiency

*If your application is successful, and English is not your first language, you will need to meet language proficiency requirements at the university that will be hosting the PhD Studentship (the university where the project lead supervisor works). For more information, please check the relevant host university website

You will also be asked to provide the names and email addresses of two individuals who will provide confidential academic reference letters. The IDLA will request the letter from your referee if you are shortlisted for interview.

Several checkbox response questions are provided throughout this form. To 'check/ tick' the relevant box, please double click and select the option 'ticked' under default value. This function works best when using Microsoft Word. If you are using alternative software to open and complete this application form, please indicate your selected option by placing a clear 'X' to the left of the relevant checkbox.

Your personal information will be processed in line with our obligations under all applicable Data Protection Laws. The Data Controller for your personal information is the University of Reading and our contact details are: University of Reading, Information Management and Policy Services, Room 2.22, Whiteknights House, Shinfield Road, Whiteknights, Reading RG6 6DT.

- We will use the information provided in this application form to process your application for a PhD studentship.

- If your application is successful, your information will be kept by the University of Reading until 5 years after the IDLA ends (for purposes of monitoring).
- Names, date of birth, current country of residence, contact details and fees status of successful applicants may be shared with the relevant team at the host universities.

Under Data Protection laws you have rights to access, restrict, correct, erase, rectify and object to uses of your data. You also have a right to complain to the UK data protection authority. Our Data Protection officer can be contacted at imps@reading.ac.uk for more information.
