Benefits of being an IFST Corporate Supporter

IFST is the leading professional body for food scientists and technologists. We have an active and growing membership base (now over 3300 members). We work collaboratively to develop the skills and create the profile your organisation needs to build your place in the food sector, as a visionary and credible organisation. Whether your current focus is on the development of your talent pool, developing your network and understanding of the sector, information sharing or expanding revenue streams, IFST can support your goals through our bespoke corporate support packages.

Aligning with IFST as a corporate supporter demonstrates your organisation's commitment to corporate citizenship and positive social value to your colleagues, stakeholders and customers. By supporting IFST and our scientific and educational projects, you are demonstrating to these communities, you are making a difference to future food professionals and the general public. As a registered charity we are actively involved in several high-profile projects in support of food professionals and the wider food science and technology agenda.

CURRENT EDUCATIONAL PROJECTS INCLUDE:

- Love Food Love Science – a dedicated website and set of resources around food science and technology aimed at exciting and inspiring GCSE level students and teachers.
- Food Science Fact Sheets – clear and easy to read two-page fact sheets on a range of food science topics aimed at the general public. Our independent position puts us in a perfect position to provide consumers with information they can trust.
- Register of Food Safety Professionals – a specialist professional register to recognise and encourage the professional development of food safety professionals.
- Student Career LaunchPads – a series of highly energising and enlightening one-day events for undergraduate students to help them better understand the career options available to them when they complete their studies.
- Ecotrophelia – a Dragon's Den-style new product development competition run jointly with Campden BRI as the UK heats leading to an EU final.
